Rabbi's Message

Many things have happened in this past year, some good, some not so good. Between my father's health challenges (he's doing better) and my own (me, too), it's been a difficult year.

I am thankful to be able to be around to complain about it! I'm not 100% yet. It isn't an easy or short recovery, but I am doing much better and my strength is increasing every day.

Thank you for the tremendous amount of support that my family and I have received. So many people have reached out in concern, sent notes of support, and made donations for my recovery. Your support has meant a great deal.

Thank you to all those who have stepped up in my absence to lead this congregation at worship, in the weeks leading up to the High Holidays and now during them. Special thanks to Ira Lacher and Laura Sparks for taking up the mantle of leadership. Thanks as well to the Temple staff, Wendy, David, Erin, and Charles, who have made this challenging time run much smoother for the Congregation. This rabbi is proud of all of you and thankful for all you do and have done. Thanks as well to all of those who have helped to lead Shabbat services and who have participated and will participate in our High Holiday services.

Special thanks to Bill Grund, our Temple President, for all of his help and support for me and for my family and for working so hard to make sure that I am taking the time to heal properly.

The greatest of thanks, goes to my wife Julie, for all she's done, especially over the past couple of months. It's been quite a 25th year of marriage so far. Our 25th Anniversary was August 14 and a week later, I was in the hospital. Thanks as well to my friends and to my children, Hanna, Ellie, and Avi, all of whom have been there to help take care of me and cheer me up. Thank you all for your love, support, and care.

May the Jewish year 5780 be a good year, full of health and happiness.

Shanah Tovah!

Rabbi David Kaufman

President's Comments

A matter that has caught the attention of many congressmen has been the issue of security. It's certainly a different world we're living in, and it's continuing to change...not necessarily for the better in some cases.

As I mentioned in the communication that went out prior to the High Holidays, it is an extremely difficult balance to walk. On one hand there are some people who want every possible security measure taken, and that makes a lot of sense. However how do we balance that with the desire for more access to the building, not to mention the budgetary constraints?

Ideally I suspect we strive for (and will end up) somewhere between wide open access and a safe room. Please make no mistake about it – the safety of our members, staff and guests is of paramount importance. It's just figuring out a practical way to accomplish it. Your thoughts and comments are welcome.

One of the more important security features we're adding is what I'm calling panic buttons. Think of them as "I've fallen but I can't get up" prototypes. Let me explain. In late Spring there was some theft at the Temple following a community wide event. Apparently 1-2 people (we're guessing) came in with the crowd and hid out. When everyone left the intruders decided to help themselves. Fortunately they only took two microphones before the motion sensors set off the alarms and they ran.

Both the Rabbi and Charles told me that they had done a quick walk-thru prior to leaving and didn't see anyone. But what if it didn't happen that way? What if, G-d forbid, as each of them individually did their walk-thru they actually would have encountered the intruders? Candidly it startles, alarms and frightens me to think of what could have happened if either the Rabbi or Charles would have come face to face with what, in effect, was a cornered animal.

When we have Shabbat or other events, the Temple is full enough that there are really no isolated areas. However on a daily basis that's not true. The safety of our staff and occasional guests needs to be anticipated. With that in mind we are attempting to find room in the budget to purchase the panic buttons, which would cover our staff of five plus another five for the limited visitors we get.

The panic buttons would be required to be worn at all times by the staff and visitors so that no matter where they are in the building, if they encounter an emergency or threatening situation all they have to do is press the button. That will trigger the alarm throughout the building and immediately notify the security company.

It is not my intention to alarm or scare anyone. To the contrary, I'm hoping that this update has given all some comfort. However, the truth is that we live in an unpredictable world, and we're taking the steps we can to minimize that risk.

On another matter, after I was elected President of TBJ I made the decision to try to meet with all of the past presidents individually. My thought process at the time was to leverage their experience. I wanted to get their insight from during their term and also their observations afterward. At the risk of hurting my shoulder trying to pat myself on the back, what a good idea that was!

We have been blessed with a long line of incredible people who have been president at TBJ. They are competent, knowledgeable, determined, tough, and able to see the bigger picture while paying attention to detail. And you know what? They have all been so gracious in giving me the benefit of their time and advice. More on that in a bit.

Since the last Bulletin our congregation was shaken when Rabbi Kaufman discovered that he needed bypass surgery. Of course we were all relieved that the procedure was successful and the Rabbi is fast on the road to recovery. I suspect a year from now if I want to meet with Rabbi Kaufman I'll have to be on my bike and ride along with him while he is running between miles 10-15.

The consensus among the past presidents was that each president has a crisis or unexpected situation during their term. In my best Jerry Lewis voice, "Hello!" Of course I wasn't expecting mine to come within the first few months "on the job," but it happens when it happens. That said, I don't know how I would have handled the situation without the patience and advice of our past presidents. What a bunch of mentsches!

Here's wishing you a Happy Thanksgiving!

Bill Grund

Executive Director's Message

I was once told that working for a congregation can be a lot like riding a roller coaster with lots of highs and lows, and the last few months have definitely felt like a roller coaster ride.

Because there have been a lot of highs and lows of late I want to start of my article this month by thanking all of the staff and volunteers here at the Temple who have been putting extra time and effort to make sure that our congregational life has been running smoothly. I don't think anyone, including Rabbi Kaufman, thought he would need surgery and miss conducting the High Holidays, but I again I am thankful for everyone who stepped forward to make sure our services are covered and given Rabbi Kaufman the time he needs to recover.

One thing I wish I could report was that all our security updates were complete and that we would have new doors installed for the High Holidays. Sadly the doors are not scheduled to be complete until the end of September, and won't be installed until after the High Holidays. Thankfully we have received back 100% of our costs so far, and I was notified that we received an additional grant for $20,000 to make more security improvements to our building. With these additional funds we hope to make some improvements to our parking lot and the locks inside our building.

Hopefully these security improvements will not be the only improvements to the building we make this year. We are continuing to look at replacing much of our equipment in the kitchen, and we will be doing some tuck-pointing on the building and repairing sections of our sidewalks. As you continue to join us for services throughout the year I hope you'll be on the lookout for these improvements.

So as we observe the High Holidays we have a lot to look forward to here at the Temple and I hope that all you do, too. On behalf of all the staff here at Temple B'nai Jeshurun Shanah tovah um'tukah.

Shalom,
David Muencharth

SISTERHOOD UPDATE

We are the people who remember and celebrate. We take the time each year to remember our Creator and Creation. We take the time to contemplate the past year and assess where we could have been better, more caring. We make things right with those we have hurt. And finally, we go to God to ask for help to make ourselves and our actions right, going forward with new energy to improve ourselves, creating a new start.

As Sisterhood companions, together we can create a new start and make an impact for good. We build on the work of our predecessors together and are inspired by their actions and efforts. So, this year, join your Sisters. Our programs and projects support our members, our congregation, and our greater community. Each year we look for ways to improve social and outreach programming. We encourage more women to join us to improve all lives— making the world a better place by our action and peace.

AND, if you don't see the improvement or relevance, join us and Be the Change you would like to see. Because, "Unless someone like you cares a whole awful lot, Nothing is going to get Better. It's Not." (Dr. Seuss, The Lorax)

Join TBJ for 2019 InterFaith Community Home Build Week

The Greater Des Moines Habitat for Humanity's 2019 InterFaith Community Home Build Week is October 16-20.

Our Temple community has a wonderful opportunity to participate with other faith communities in this home building project as a group on Sunday, October 20th from 1-5pm.

All volunteers are welcome, but minors under 16 must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. No construction experience is required. The work will be supervised by Habitat staff and other skilled volunteers.

If you would like to volunteer, please contact Rachele Hjelmaas (Social Action Chair) at rhjelmaas@gmail.com or 515-419-5388 for sign-up details.

Attention Kindergarteners!

You are invited!

Consecration with a young child-friendly Simchat Torah celebration.

We'll be dancing with stuffed Torahs! It will be a lot of fun for the whole family!

It's official. You will be in Kindergarten and we want to recognize this special occasion.

Please join us with all of your classmates on

Sunday, October 20, 2019

Pictures at 5:00 p.m.

Pizza Dinner at 5:30 p.m.

Service at 6:00 p.m.

Please RSVP to the Temple at office@templebnaijeshurun.com or (515) 274-4679.

We look forward to seeing you!

Temple B'nai Jeshurun invites you to

Havdalahween

Join us for pizza, s'mores, and activities—including a Havdalah service. Kids of all ages are encouraged to wear their halloween costumes and adults are invited to bring their own wine & beer.
